David:

"One day I was just, I was working out and I realized like, you know, I'm kinda getting short of breath, like I wasn't able to breathe that well. I looked in the mirror, after I'd done the working out, and I saw this golf ball sized knot in my throat."

Nicole:

"We had a one-year-old at the time. We're almost one year old, so it was very stressful. And then when they told us he needed to get it taken out, it was like, it's probably pretty serious. At that point, we had no idea what the cost was going to be. We just knew that it was something that needed to be done. That's what's most important. We'll figure it out somehow. So I called, the hospital to kinda see what our options were. We actually we had a hospital bill and then a medical group bill and then the surgeon's bill. So all of that added up. It was more beneficial to everyone probably that we ended up taking the HSF. It was a huge relief. I mean, we didn't it was monthly payments of, I think it's eighty dollars. That's very doable compared to three thousand dollars right here right now. It kinda just takes the financial aspect of his surgery and everything that we were going through out of the equation completely."

David: "So it just took the stress, you know, right out of it."
